Cosmo's Menu

APPETIZERS

The Whimbleton

just how it sounds – whatever the cook feels like servin' at that time. Usually contains loads of pepperoni $3.62

The I'll Buy That For a Dollar!

5 french fries encircled by an onion-ring belt incrustured with crushed red pepper bathed in the light of German mustard $1.00

Blazin' Breadstixx

fresh baked breadsticks, gooey chewy on the inside and crispity-crunchy on the outside dipped in a searing hot chili oil $2.49

Lamborghini Artichoke Ultra-dip

most Lamborghini owners would trade their car for just one taste of this tantalizingly tangy dip, but luckily all they'll have to trade here is a five-spot (May contain nuts) $3.99

SALADS

Garden Patio Salad

green leafy vegetables in a bowl smothered in your choice of dressing $2.49

Cracklin' Coleslaw

even better than KFC's, plus it's cracklin' $1.99

Long-hair Macaroni Salad

our cook has taken choice spaghetti, fettuccini, and linguini to make this the stringiest macaroni salad we've seen yet $1.99

The Four on the Floor

In August of 76, a waiter carrying one of each of the above salads tripped and dropped them all on the ground. As he lay there regaining his composure, he managed to take a bite of the mixture that had formed. The rest is history. The legendary Cosmo's garden patio salad, cracklin' coleslaw, long-hair macaroni salad, and the then-available French Maid potato salad combined to make one wild bowl.
$2.13

SANDWICHES

The Gambled-n-lost

turkey and provolone on toasted sourdough with pesto and tomatoes
$5.99

The Here Today Gone To Maui

ham, avocado, secret Hawaiian mystery sauce $5.99

The What A Week I'm Having

Cosmo's famous home-made chicken salad, with green olives, tomato, and lettuce on a toasted croissant $5.29

The You Have Got To Be Kidding Me

tuna and egg salad are combined on white bread to make the messiest sandwich this side of the Mississippi - bring extra napkins! $4.59

The Knock-knock-knockin'-on-heaven's-door

Deep fried beef – some call it chicken fried steak, smothered with 3 kinds of ranch dressing, 6 kinds of cheese, and 2 very special cesar salad dressing bombs detonated from within. Don't even bother going home after this one. $7.89

SIDES

Onion explosion extravaganza

We take an onion add some petroleum and basically make it explode. Arson never tasted so good. $2.99

French-a-fry Fiesta

a parade of mariachis stampeding into your bedroom and by mariachis, I mean French fries, and by bedroom I mean mouth $1.39

BEVERAGES

1.3% milk – our ultra-rare trademark drink $1.49

Camp Fantastico's premium coffee $1.49

Wild Cherry Pepsi $1.09

NY's finest municipal water $0.09

DESSERTS

The Banana-fana-fo-fan-a like a banana split and a sculpture of an electric guitar combined to make one rockin' dessert $2.99

The Tutti-fruitti-fresh-n-fruity

we're talkin' a virtual aeroplane of berries, cherries, and ice cream flying through the stratosphere into your mouth $2.99

Death By Quadruple Chocolate Mega-fantasy

excruciatingly indulgent, sinfully decadent, so rich you'll probably need to bring a change of clothes $5.43

The Cosmo's Philosophy

We here at Cosmo's realize that people get pretty hungry and when this happens all they really want to do is eat. That's why we are here. Our friendly staff and diverse menu work hard to satisfy the most starving of customers with a plethora of charm and whole bunch of food. Cosmo's specializes in sandwiches and experimental desserts, so you can get lunch and a treat here all day long. We're pretty much always open (well, except for Tuesdays) so come on down to Cosmo's where even a dollar will get you something.
